Maho Nights: The Rebirth of Maho After Dark

The beating of drums, the dinging sound of winning slot machines, still walkers braving the streets and the aroma of gourmet dining fill the air: Maho is back in action! For those that had visited Maho in the heyday’s pre-Irma, the sights and sounds of a busy Friday night is a moment that takes you back. Maho was my stomping ground every Friday for several years, and seeing the businesses in this area filled with people and overflowing into the street was an exciting moment.

Casino Royale is the landmark establishment of Maho. Now fully open, the last two weeks the casino hosted a poker tournament that brought people from around the globe to play. Though there is no longer a nightclub above the casino, there is a new dining hot spot that brings the glitz and glam associated with an evening out at the casino.

Alina Sushi & Sake Bar, formerly located in Simpson Bay, just opened its new location in Maho last weekend. Chef and owner Ken Lin landed in St. Maarten by way of Anguilla, and has made a name for himself on this island amongst sushi enthusiasts. Chef Ken’s impressive resume includes Japanese cuisine experience in Taipei, Tokyo, London and Moscow; just to name a few. His menu includes dishes that are authentic but not in the traditional sense, giving his own spin to each. The Spicy Edamame, Happy Dragon roll, Spider roll and Spicy Tuna roll are just some of the favorites. And if you want a truly unique experience, ask for Chef’s Choice. Chef Ken will make you flavorful, inspiring and one-of-a-kind dishes...

Thanks for reading the ST-MAARTEN.COM Weekly Edition; I am thrilled that you chose our publication to enlighten you on where to dine, shop, party and do activities while on St. Maarten/St-Martin.

It has been just over a year and a half since Hurricane Irma hit the island. Recovery has been steadily moving along, with more businesses re-opening or introducing themselves for the first time. In this issue, we have highlighted several establishments that have opened their doors and are awaiting your visit. I hope you support them in their endeavors.

Of course, a huge part of the Dutch side’s recovery is the 50th anniversary of Carnival. The party hats are on as the month flies by. Be sure to participate in at least one event while on island- they are not to be missed.

Take a Spin with SXM Rally Tours

Looking for an adventurous excursion to explore St. Maarten? You didn’t come all this way to drive around the island in a normal car or bus- that is too boring. Bring out your daredevil side and take a spin with SXM Rally Tours.

SXM Rally Tours uses state of the art, factory made four-wheel drive machines that are the epitome of excellence and performance; of course, with safety at the forefront. The Polaris RZR-S and RZR-4 seat either two or up to four people. Due to the suspension on these thrill-seeking sport performance vehicles, you’ll have the easiest ride imaginable over Sint Maarten’s rugged terrain.

If you know you want to test out the power, suspension and agility of these off-road vehicles, but on-road: you are in luck! They are street legal, meaning you can drive them right on the main roads around St. Maarten/St-Martin.

Contact SXM Rally Tours today to book your exploration of St. Maarten/St-Martin. They are conveniently located in Bobby’s Marina in Philipsburg, Sint Maarten; which is a short distance from the cruise port.
“Winter is here”, and for the GOT Fandom that means the 8th and final season of Game of Thrones is finally about to air. Unless you’ve been living under the Wall, you know that Game of Thrones is the global television phenomenon based on George R. R. Martin’s epic saga, “A Song of Ice & Fire.”. The series first aired in 2011 and ran uninterrupted until 2017. Game of Thrones fans then had to wait over a year for the series finale season. And now our watch has ended.

On Sunday, April 14th, the much anticipated 8th season is set to air and we finally get answers to the burning questions we have all been asking for a full year now. What is Daenerys going to do when she finds out Jon is a lost Targaryen? What is Jon going to do when he finds out he is a lost Targaryen? What does Cersei have planned? Arya and Jon reuniting! Is Tormund still alive? A WHOLE YEAR OF WAITING FINALLY OVER! With only 6 episodes it is the shortest season, in the series, but episode runtimes are ranging from 58 minutes to over 80 minutes. I’m not sure how I made it, but I did and I am super excited for season 8.

Of course, the show can be watched on HBO and its streaming service HBO Go, as well as on HULU and NOW TV. Unfortunately, not everyone has HBO or maybe your wallet doesn’t afford you the luxury of on demand streaming services. Maybe you are a visitor to our fair island and your hotel or vacation home doesn’t have HBO, and you are stressed that you might have to wait until you are back in the States to watch. If you find yourself wondering, ‘how can I watch the show as it airs’, worry not; for the Rusty Rocket is here for you.

Located right by Princess Juliana airport on the Dutch side on Airport Road, across from the Winair building, The Rusty Rocket is a rustic little building with a sort of fisherman cabin charm to it.

Overlooking the Simpson Bay Lagoon, they are serving up, “The Best Burgers” on island, as well as their famous Funchi fries and so much more.

The owners, Jimmy and Chris, are both huge fans of the series. After a discussion, Chris had with a friend; the two decided it would be really cool to host Game of Thrones watch parties for the duration of season 8.

A good thing for some of us that they did too, for the next six Sunday nights Rusty Rocket has GOT fans on the island covered. An entire section of the restaurant will be turned into a viewing area where patrons will be able to watch the show on two television screens.

But Winter is Coming to SXM

Chris, the bigger fan of the two, is the person in charge of organizing the events.

“I think it would be fun, especially since it’s the last season, to get people together,” he says. The show is loved by millions of people worldwide and St. Maarten has a fair amount of fans.

“We want to be able to provide that shared experience of watching the season finale of such an iconic show as a community.” Besides being able to view the show, Chris says they will be offering GOT themed food and drinks special, trivia games and giveaways.

They’ve also got Johnny Walker on board and will have the special edition, Johnny Walker White Walker stock.

Specials will differ each week and will be announced on the restaurants Facebook page.

Season 8 of HBO’s Game of Thrones kicks off Sunday April 14th, 2019 and airs through to May 19th, 2019. Show time is at 9PM.
Maho Nights: The Rebirth of Maho After Dark

that may or may not be on the menu.

The new location above Casino Royale provides Alina with more than double the amount of seating previously available. The space seamlessly flows from inside to out, giving a bird’s eye view of the Maho strip. The entrance is located just inside the entrance of the casino and reservations are highly recommended.

Several days prior to Alina’s opening, a new steakhouse opened across the street: JAX Steakhouse. The restaurant’s menu highlights options from land or sea, with decadent options in each category. Of course, no steakhouse is complete without a well thought-out cocktail and wine list; and JAX possesses an impressive menu of both. Carefully crafted cocktails show the attention to detail that this steakhouse has. Some early favorites are the Truffle Margarita, Blonde Bombshell and Bacon Old Fashioned- because, who doesn’t love bacon? Pair these scrumptious adult beverages with a flawlessly cooked steak and a robust glass of wine for the ideal meal.

After dinner, several bars and lounges have opened, drawing the late-night crowd back to Maho. 3 Amigos is a lively bar with bartenders known for their high-energy and welcoming personalities, while We Lounge is a little more subdued and is more of a sip and be seen scene. Of course, there are new dining spots and watering holes that are open, rounding out the energy of this soon to be thriving area.

And on Fridays, there is a special show at 8PM in front of Casino Royale which features drummers, stilt walkers, dancers and more. Welcome back Maho- we missed you!

Careful! This week's crossword puzzle has a couple trick questions. You will notice that all questions are rooted in the Caribbean hemisphere and might take a bit of research to answer if you haven't spent much time here. It also means the answers are valid for St. Maarten/St-Martin and the neighboring islands. For example, if we ask for an island directly to the North of our location, it can only be Anguilla.

If we are using compound words in the answer, they do NOT have spaces!

If you try to solve the puzzle as a visitor to our island and you get stuck: don’t be shy! Approach a local and ask. You might find they struggle to answer as well. Or strike up an interesting conversation and learn a bit about our very unique region.

Mistakes do happen, even though our puzzle is produced right here on the island. If you detect an error, drop us a line at SXM@EMAIL.COM.

Swing into the Fun with Random Wind

By Leslie Hickerson

For over a decade S/Y Random Wind has been showing visitors and residents some of the amazing things St. Maarten/St-Martin has to offer.

Originally the Random Wind opened in 1998 on SXM. In 2007 Diane Moran Smith purchased the boat and company with the intention of running a charter company for a few years and then traveling the globe.

“We lived in South Carolina and relocated to SXM when we bought the business. We planned on running the business for 3 years and then sailing around the world with our children Nathan and Caroline,” Diane stated.

Like so many others, once Smith arrived she found out that this island has something special that makes it hard to leave.

The boat and the company quickly became one of the top-rated tours on the island. With some guests returning year after year, thanks in large part to the friendly and accommodating crew, the amazing on-board lunch, fabulous snorkel and beach stops, and (of course) the island’s only Tarzan Swing!

After the original S/Y Random Wind sank in Hurricane Irma, Smith decided to have faith in the ability of the island to recover. In January of 2018 she purchased a 52ft catamaran called Camille.

“(After the storm) was a difficult time for certain. For many others more so than myself. That is a big reason I came back. I know so many people; friends, business acquaintances, and customers turned friends. Anywhere else wouldn’t be the same. St. Maarten/St-Martin is a special place,” said Smith.

After her refit and damage repair the new catamaran offers space for up to 37 guests on board, though the crew limits this number to ensure that everyone is comfortable for the day.

The Paradise Day Sail is an amazing way to experience the island from the sea. Departing at 10AM, guests can expect a relaxing day in the sun while being pampered by the crew.

As soon as the boat takes off drinks are served and you head out for a snorkel/beach stop based on the sea conditions. At the first location paddle boards and kayaks are available for use, and at your second stop it’s time to give the Tarzan Swing a try. Whether you play it safe and just let yourself drop into the crystal blue water, or you attempt Diane’s signature back flip into the sea; you have to give it a go!

The crew on board will prepare an amazing lunch, which is much anticipated after an amazing morning on and in the water. Then as you cruise back to Philipsburg you will be able to relax in on the comfortable deck enjoying the view of the island.

One of the main things that sets the Random Wind apart from other sailing tours in the Caribbean is the amazing staff. Most often on board are Captain Luuck Soeters and his wife Darcy, who both joined the boat upon reopening, and Manager and First Mate Anna Holness.

“Anna has been with us for years, she was on the original boat and stayed to help get the new boat ready. She is an amazing person, so great with people, and truly a beautiful soul. The captain Luuck, came on in 2018 once the new boat was sorted. His wife, Darcy, is also a hostess and together they are a great team. I am grateful for all of them,” says Smith.

This company is one to keep your eye on as Smith plans to expand the business when possible and offer even more to her guests. To experience the amazing day onboard the Random Wind for yourself you can visit their website at randomwind.com to send a reservation request or contact form.
Don't Worry Parents: Barabonbon Isn't Just for Kids

Nestled into the Mount Vernon shopping center, adjacent to the Leader Price Supermarket, is a kid's paradise - or is it a paradise for adults who pretend to buy for their children? Barabonbon is the ultimate candy store, with a mindboggling selection of treats that will cause the onset of a sugar rush even before starting to sample the goodies.

The store is the creation of Anne Wantier: "After Hurricane Irma, I realized that I was missing color in my life, and I felt that the same must be true for children. Barabonbon was formed out of my desire to create a joyful oasis for kids."

As the former comptroller of the now sadly defunct Club Orient Resort, Anne had no in-depth knowledge of the idiosyncrasies of the candy industry, and in late 2017 she began her education. "After gaining four kilos I decided that I knew enough to start the shop," she laughs. "Most of the Barabonbon products come from France, with a few items from the US."

Every shopper - little or grown up - receives a plastic glove and a plastic bucket. Once the bucket is filled up, the contents are weighed and charged accordingly.

The Barabonbon concept has proven to be a resounding success, and Anne is now preparing an online shopping website to allow residents of Guadeloupe and Martinique to order.

Our Dutch-side readers should make the easy road trip to the 'Centre Commercial de Mont Vernon' not only to visit Barabonbon, but to explore a different shopping opportunity.

There is hardly any slow traffic coming from Philipsburg, so the destination can be reached within minutes. Next to Barabonbon is the One By K T-Shirt store. St-Martin's very own fashion label. The Leader Price supermarket as the main anchor of the center offers excellent values on groceries, beating the prices of Dutch side markets on most standard products.

Tzu Chi Raise funds for Africa

The St. Maarten Tzu Chi Foundation in collaboration with St. Dominic High International Baccalaureate (IB) students continued to raise awareness about the importance of protecting the environment when students delivered a presentation about this subject to 50 students enrolled in No Kidding with Our Kids Foundation’s After School Activities (ASA) Program.

A total of six IB students delivered what was described as a shocking, educational and interesting presentation about environmental protecting and global warming to the excited students.

At the end of the presentation, one of the ASA teachers said the information presented by the IB students had been very interesting and it coincided with ASA’s theme for this year, which is recycling. The teacher said the presentation to the ASA kids demonstrated why recycling is important and why trash should not be disposed of inappropriately particularly in waterways as this can affect aquatic life.

She said ASA kids also learned about the importance of conserving water and the importance of keeping taps off when brushing their teeth and taking a shower, when they are not using it. Some students were not familiar with the “outside world” and had been shocked and saddened by the effects of global warming on the environment and on animal life. “Some of them could not believe that kid at the other side of the world drink dirty water. They learnt a lot and I hope that they take the message that they got from Tzu Chi (and IB students) to their homes and to their parents,” the teacher said thanking everyone for coming out.

One student, who benefited from the presentation, said what she saw in the presentation had been devastating and she will do her utmost to encourage others to do their part to protect Mother Nature.

Later that same day, Tzu Chi also continued its efforts to raise funds for Africa. The funds raised are for a project to help build shelters made of bricks for the survivors of the deadly cyclone Idai - a category 4 storm that brought weeks of rain and flooding to the poorest countries of Africa from March 4 to 21, 2019. Zimbabwe, Mozambique and Malawi were hit particularly hard and about 765 persons died, hundreds missing, millions left homeless without food and water. A total of eight Tzu Chi volunteers participated in the drive. They held a prayer, before collecting the donation for the worthy cause. The Director of No Kidding with Our Kids Foundation kept a bamboo bank to continue efforts to collect fund for the worthy cause.

One of the Key to Freedom volunteers, who participated said he was never asked for funds to assist in a worthy cause and he is not used to bowing when accepting donations from others, as is customary in Tzu Chi.

He said after listening to the explanation from senior Tzu Chi volunteers that bowing is done as a show of gratitude to the person giving the donation, he felt grateful for the opportunity to collect on behalf of survivors in Africa. He let go of his pride, started to bow and at end he felt joy and gained a peaceful mind, Tzu Chi said in a press release on Monday.

Tzu Chi Commissioner Sandra Cheung said she was grateful to students and volunteers for taking time out to share the worthwhile information to ASA kids and to help raise funds for a worthy cause in another part of the world and she thanked ASA for accommodating the team for the presentation.

Adventures in Sex and Dating in St. Maarten
A Regular Column by Leslie Hickerson

The gift that keeps on giving... One of the tricky things that happens when you date on SXM is that it is quite common for the people not to have an apartment of their own to go to. It could be because they live and work on a boat, or because they share an apartment to keep the cost of living down. No matter the reason, it does present a bit of a predicament when couples want to get intimate.

There are lots of ways to combat this; hotels, cars, the beach, public bathrooms or vacation homes. These options have their pros and cons, but some are heavy on the con column. One couple recently found out that some cons are just not worth the evening’s activities.

Jack and Laura found themselves looking for some privacy one night and the booked the first thing they found, an AirBnB in Simpson Bay. The night went great and the couple amicably went their separate ways the next morning. Over the next couple days Laura noticed that her head started to itch; first only a little bit, and then it got worse and worse.

Finally, she got a little help from a friend who looked at the roots of her hair. The girls discovered that Laura had picked up bedbugs at the AirBnB. She had to give Jack a call before the bugs spread throughout his boat. To be fair- bedbugs are a much more relaxed reason to have to call a past hook up and tell them to get checked out, but it’s still not the type of call you want to make. Here’s hoping that the bugs didn’t spread throughout the boats and the BnB didn’t infest anyone else!

Balloon Jump Up Lacked Attendance

Bright and colorful balloons were eye poppers under the rays of the sun. A sight to see that, unfortunately, weren’t seen by many on that beautiful Sunday afternoon. Two modest troops of children, and a handful of parents and chaperones walked, strolled, danced and ‘shoted’ their way down Bush Road towards Philipsburg.

The song “Shoot” from BlocBoy JB seemed to be on repeat, which didn’t seem to bother the young revelers that gladly showcased how well they knew the steps. This might be a positive endeavor from the organizers to play music that were suitable to that age bracket. It might not be Soca, which is typically played during Carnival, but then that raises interrogations on the position of children and Carnival. If the music dedicated to and played during these celebrations aren’t always family-friendly, should they partake in mixed parades? Whoops. This might be a polemical topic, let’s jump back in the crowd.

Speaking of crowds... the absence or lack of a crowd was striking. Perhaps that would have helped to capture more shots of smiles as bright as the balloons, but thankfully on the Pond Field supporters began to sprout. Hopefully this becomes something much grander in the near future. There’s so much potential.
